Concerns Student Research Exchange (SCORE)

Dear Ivana,

With respect to our ongoing discussions concerning possible joint interest, FENS strongly encourages international exchanges of MSc and PhD students to obtain training in research and that this offers important opportunities and incentives to young scientist. FENS has a genuine interest in and actively strives to include medical students in our Neuroscience research training programmes.

FENS values and fully supports the IFMSA research exchange programme, (SCORE) which provides medical students a chance to experience new research settings. FENS is happy to work with IFMSA whenever appropriate to advertise this programme aiming to attract more medical students with an interest in Neuroscience, Neurology and Psychiatry to develop their research skills and opportunities.

With our best regards,

Menno P. Witter PhD
